Sensational Trial of Cooper, the American Forger at London.

The Editor and Publisher of the London "Tutu Talk" indicted for libeling Mrs. Langtry and Others.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Oct. 21.—At Newmarket to-day the race for the Cambridge-stakes, one mile and 240 yards, was won by Lamerville, Saxtonian 2nd, Out of Bounds 3rd.

THE AMERICAN FORGER.

New York, Oct. 21.—A dispatch from London says William Riggold Cooper alias Neville Hunter, the celebrated American forger, and a man of many disguises, was to-day arraigned in the old Bailey sessions charged with forgery by Glynn, Miles & Co., bankers, and the Bank of England. Cooper pleaded guilty to both charges and was remanded for sentence next Thursday. It is possible that some of the prisoner's assets may revert to his San Francisco creditors, if it can be proved that the funds came from thence. Day of Hemel, Hemstead, who loved the prisoner like a brother, when he gave his evidence against Cooper, burst into tears.

Aloysius J. Kane, of America, who knew the prisoner when he was an ensign on the staff of Admiral Lee, of the North Atlantic squadron during the war, recognized him in Newgate. The court was thronged with bankers and brokers, with an admixture of the fair sex, who had come to look upon the convict, whose refinement, liberality and good manners obtained him recognition from some of the best families of Hartfordshire, in the neighborhood of his country residence, East Lodge, Hemel, Hemstead, near Bar Salsburgh. One woman was observed in mourning who passed as Cooper's wife. She was deeply affected.

The Howard at Memphis have telegraphed to send four nurses. The weather is now warm and the worst is feared unless it soon turns colder. It is very malignant. Thirteen out of sixteen attacked have died. A special train will convey four more nurses to Forest City this morning.

A TUMBLE.

The Chicago Grain and Provision Exchange Busts.

The Produce Markets in a Very Excited Condition.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The Chicago grain and provision exchange, managed by Charles T. Dixey, suspended this morning. It has been seriously embarrassed of late and only kept up by the generosity of friends, but the strong advance in corn and provisions to-day, and of wheat during the past week, so impaired its finances that suspension was the only course left. The liabilities are not very heavy. All other bucket shops are pursuing a conservative course and expect to survive the present excitement.

It was rumored that Charlie Compant attempted the arrest and was knocked down by Smithley. This is entirely without foundation.

THE FESTIVE LIZARD.

How He "Made It Pleasant" for a Fort Wayne Boy.

Particulars of a Case That Puzzled the Doctors.

The following is one of the most remarkable cases that has come under our notice for some time. James Quinn, who resides at 320 Lafayette street, has a son about six years of age, who for the past two years has been acting in the strangest possible manner. He would at times jump, yell and scream in a terrible manner for the space of fifteen minutes, after which he would sink into a comatose condition. These spells would come on about two or three times a day, and during their stay the child would utter incoherent sounds.

The parents were driven almost frantic over the condition of their child, and nearly every physician in the city had been summoned to attend the little sufferer, but without avail. The parents were about to give up in despair, when they were recommended to employ a certain physician in Chicago. The despairing father immediately procured the services of this gentleman. As soon as he arrived he examined the child and removed from it a lizard about six inches long. As soon as the operation was performed the little fellow experienced relief and is now progressing finely with prospects of entire recovery. The joke is on the Fort Wayne doctors who treated the child for heart disease, liver complaint, etc. Altogether the above is a very singular circumstance, and might be taken by some for a hoax, but our reporter in conversation with the father of the child was informed that the above are the facts, let people say what they will. The parents are overjoyed upon the deliverance of their darling who has endured such anguish for so long a time.

THE CITY.

The Value of Advertising.

Another proof of the value of advertising was given last Saturday night, when Buffalo Bill played at the Academy to a $6000 house—the largest of the season. Mr. Westfall, of the Terre Haute Saturday Evening Mail, took the company for nine nights on speculation and concluded to work business up by a lavish use of printer's ink. In this city he put a four-column advertisement in one issue of each of the leading papers—the SENTINEL and Gazette—expending more money than was ever paid out here by a hall show. Result: Standing room at a premium. Mr. Westfall pursued the same policy at other places and retired from his speculation with a net profit of $700 in nine days. The moral of this story does not need enlarging upon.

Death of Prof. Mills.

We clip the following from the Lafayette Courier: Prof. Caleb Mills, of Wabash College, died at his home in Crawfordsville on Thursday, of pneumonia. He was born in Dunbar, N. H., July 25th, 1831. In December, 1851, he was selected to teach in Wabash College, and the appointment of professor of languages was conferred upon him in 1855, since when time has been an active and zealous worker in the interests of Wabash College. At the time of his death he was professor of geology and mineralogy. The burial took place this afternoon.

The deceased lived in this city in its early days, and was intimately acquainted with all the old settlers, who, together with himself, braved the hardships and dangers of pioneer life. The deceased was a man of great learning, and his loss will be seriously felt by the institution with which he was connected. Requiescat in peace.

Death of Julius Kabisch.

Julius Kabisch died at 9:30 last night of consumption at his residence over his saloon on East Main street, after a lingering illness. He was an old and well known citizen and was generally respected. He leaves a wife and two children. Mr. Kabisch had been crippled for many years, the result of a fall from the roof of the Jefferson school building upon which the deceased was at work. Mr. Kabisch was fifty-five years old.

Orrin S. Perry thinks that the report of his divorce case was a little one-sided, in that it left the impression that he is a habitual drunkard. To his credit he said that he has forewarned intoxicating liquors of all kind, now, heretofore and forever.

LOCAL LAW-MAKERS.

An Adjourned Session of the Council Last Evening.

Water Works Matters and Miscellaneous Business.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held last evening, the mayor presiding, and a full board present, except Messrs. Dreyer, Welch and Mohr.

The water works trustees reported a contract with Moellering & Paul for the engine house. The trustees also reported that they would submit a contract for the engines at the next meeting; that they would have done so at once but the bond was not ready. The reports were received and placed on file.

The contract with Moellering & Paul for the engine house, at $8,490, and the bond for $10,000, endorsed by Fred Eckert, were read and referred to the city attorney and water works committee.

Mr. Chittenden enquired if the law didn't provide that the water works trustees should make the purchase of land.

Mr. Hettler said it did not. The law said nothing about land excepting as to its condemnation. The authority for its purchase was found in the charter and an ordinance would have to be prepared and adopted on the subject. He said the word "authorize" was used instead of "instruct" or "direct," so as to leave the way open in the event of certain contingencies.

Mr. McCulloch thought this bound the city to purchase the Olds property.

Mr. Muhler took the same view.

Mr. Hettler said the ordinance would bind the city if it was adopted. Mr. Chittenden thought the city would not be bound until a deed is received and approved.

Mr. Vordermark thought that it might be legally necessary to advertise for proposals for the land, and whether this course might not be advisable.

Mr. Hettler thought there was no occasion to advertise, as there were but very few eligible sites for the reservoir, and all of the proposals had been received that could be obtained.

Mr. McCulloch thought the matter should be held open until it was settled whether or not lower figures could be obtained.

Mr. Chittenden thought that Mr. Cook should make a recommendation. His report was indefinite. He simply made a mathematical calculation. He was paid $2,600 a year and ought to furnish all the information possible. Let him say whether the Olds property is suitable for the purpose and not leave the way open for him to say in the future that he had made no recommendation in the matter.

Mr. Hettler said Mr. Cook had presented just the kind of report that the council had called for. He reported the difference in the cost of the two pieces of land, all other things being equal. He had the clerk read the original resolution calling for the report.

Mr. Hettler said the adoption of the report would not bind the council.

Mr. Muhler said he understood the Olds land was a square further off than Hamilton's, making the cost of pipe laying greater. He said Mr. Cook had previously reported that the Hamilton land was the cheaper, and Mr. Olds had then been allowed to put in a lower bid. Mr. Hamilton should now have a chance to reduce his bid.

Mr. Chittenden thought the trustees should make a report.

Mr. Vordermark again suggested an advertisement.

The report was then concurred in. An official certificate from Philadelphia as to the responsibility of Wood & Co., bidders for the pipe and pipe laying, and their bona fides, was read, and after some discussion was referred to the city attorney.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A petition for the vacation of an alley running north and south in Hanna's addition between Washington and Jefferson streets was referred to the street committee.

A petition from Volney Parks for the postponement of the building of sidewalks on Lillie street from Lewis to Maumee avenue, was referred to a special committee consisting of Bush, Muhler and Chittenden.

During the debate Mr. Parks asked permission to address the council, but Hettler advised him to "keep his mouth shut," and that settled it.

A petition from the city officials setting forth that the north end of the market house is in a bad condition owing to the fact that everybody "dumps his load" there, was referred to the committee on public grounds and building.

The mayor reported the following amounts collected at police court during September and paid into the city treasury: General fund, $84; fees $87; homo for the friendless, $115; total $286. Referred to the finance committee.

The street commissioner reported that several Nicholson pavement alley crossings are in bad condition and need repairs which will cost $20 each.

Mr. Hamilton stated that several crossings in the second ward needed repair.

The report was referred to the street committee who were, on motion of Mr. Hettler, authorized to purchase a car load of cedar blocks for use in these crossings.

Capt. Hettler introduced a resolution instructing the proper officials to abate the Fort Wayne College of Medicine as a nuisance. Adopted unanimously.

Mr. J. D. Cook made the following report:

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:

Gentlemen:—In the matter of the relative cost of the proposed reservoir, as between the Hamilton and Olds location, I would respectfully report:

Excess of expenditure on Olds property, 2,400,000 yards of filling, 100,000 cubic yards of excavation, 100,000 cubic yards of earthwork, 100,000 cubic yards of stone, 100,000 cubic yards of gravel, 100,000 cubic yards of sand, 100,000 cubic yards of lime, 100,000 cubic yards of cement, 100,000 cubic yards of brick, 100,000 cubic yards of tile, 100,000 cubic yards of iron, 100,000 cubic yards of steel, 100,000 cubic yards of copper, 100,000 cubic yards of zinc, 100,000 cubic yards of lead, 100,000 cubic yards of tin, 100,000 cubic yards of silver, 100,000 cubic yards of gold, 100,000 cubic THE CITY.

The Value of Advertising.
Another proof of the value of advertising was given last Saturday night, when Buffalo Bill played at the Academy to a $6000 house—the largest of the season. Mr. Westfall, of the Terre Haute Saturday Evening Mail, took the company for nine nights on speculation and concluded to work business up by a lavish use of printer's ink. In this city he put a four-column advertisement in one issue of each of the leading papers—the SENTINEL and GAZETTE—expending more money than was ever paid out here by a hall show. Result: Standing room at a premium. Mr. Westfall pursued the same policy at other places and retired from his speculation with a net profit of $700 in nine days. The moral of this story does not need enlarging upon.

Death of Prof. Mills.

We clip the following from the Lafayette Courier:
Prof. Cadeb Mills, of Wabash College, died at his home in Crawfordsville on Thursday, of pneumonia. He was born in Dunbarton, N. H., July 29th, 1806. In December, 1828, he was selected to teach in Wabash College, and at the time of his death he was professor of geology and natural history. The funeral took place this afternoon.
The deceased lived in this city in its early days, and was intimately acquainted with all the old settlers, who, together with himself, braved the hardships and dangers of pioneer life. The deceased was a man of great learning, and his loss will be seriously felt by the institution with which he was connected. Requiescat in peace.

Death of Julius Kabisch.

Julius Kabisch died at 9:30 last night of consumption at his residence over his saloon on East Main street, after a lingering illness. He was an old and well known citizen and was generally respected. He leaves a wife and two children. Mr. Kabisch had been crippled for many years, the result of a fall from the roof of the Jefferson school building upon which the deceased was at work. Mr. Kabisch was fifty-five years old.

Orrin S. Perry thinks that the report of his divorce case was a little one sided, in that it left the impression that he is a habitual drunkard. To his credit he said that he has forsaken intoxicating liquors of all kind now, hereafter and forever.

LOCAL LAW-MAKERS.

An Adjourned Session of the Council Last Evening.

Water Works Matters and Miscellaneous Business.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held last evening, the mayor presiding, and a full board present, except Messrs. Dreyer, Welch and Mohr.

The water works trustees reported a contract with Moellering & Paul for the engine house, at $8,490, and the bond for $10,000, endorsed by Fred Eckert, were read and referred to the city attorney and water works committee.

The contract with Moellering & Paul for the engine house, at $8,490, and the bond for $10,000, endorsed by Fred Eckert, were read and referred to the city attorney and water works committee.

Mr. Chittenden enquired if the law did not provide that the water works trustees should make the purchase of land.

Mr. Hettrler said it did not. The law said nothing about land excepting as to its condemnation. The authority for its purchase was found in the character and an ordinance would have to be prepared and adopted on the subject. He said the word "authorize" was used instead of "instruct" or "direct," so as to leave the way open in the event of certain contingencies.

Mr. McCulloch thought this bound the city to purchase the Olds property.

Mr. Hettrler took the same view. Mr. Hettrler said the ordinance would bind the city if it was adopted.

Mr. Chittenden thought the city would not be bound until a deed is received and approved.

Mr. Vordermark thought that it might be legally necessary to advertise for proposals for the land, and whether this course might not be advisable.

Mr. Hettrler thought there was no occasion to advertise, as there were but very few eligible sites for the reservoir, and all of the proposals had been received that could be obtained.

Mr. McCulloch thought the matter should be held open until it was settled whether or not lower figures could be obtained.

Mr. Chittenden thought that Mr. Cook should make a recommendation. His report was indefinite. He simply made a mathematical calculation. He was paid $2,500 a year and ought to furnish all the information possible. Let him say whether the Olds property is suitable for the purpose and not leave the way open for him to say in the future that he had made no recommendation in the matter.

Mr. Hettrler said Mr. Cook had presented just the kind of report that the council had called for. He reported the difference in the cost of the two pieces of land, all other things being equal. He had the clerk read the original resolution calling for the report.

Mr. Hettrler said the adoption of the report would not bind the council.

Mr. Muhler said he understood the Olds land was a square further off than Hamilton's, making the cost of pipe laying greater. He said Mr. Cook had previously reported that the Hamilton land was the cheaper, and Mr. Olds had then been allowed to put in a lower bid. Mr. Hamilton should now have a chance to reduce his bid.

Mr. Chittenden thought the trustees should make a report.

Mr. Vordermark again suggested an advertisement.

An official certificate from Philadelphia as to the responsibility of Wood & Co., bidders for the pipe and pipe laying and their bondsmen, was read, and after some discussion was referred to the city attorney.

MISCELLANEOUS.
A petition for the vacation of an alley running north and south in Hanna's addition between Washington and Jefferson streets was referred to the street committee.

A petition from Volney Parks for the postponement of the building of sidewalks on Lillie street from Lewis to Maumee avenue, was referred to a special committee consisting of Bash, Muhler and Chittenden.

During the debate Mr. Parks asked permission to address the council, but Hettrler advised him to "keep his mouth shut," and that settled it.

A petition from the city officials setting forth that the north end of the market house is in a bad condition owing to the fact that everybody "dumps his load" there, was referred to the committee on public grounds and building.

The mayor reported the following amounts collected at police court during September and paid into the city treasury: General fund, $84; fees, $87; home for the friendless, $115; total $286. Referred to the finance committee.

The street commissioner reported that several Nicholson pavement alley crossings are in bad condition and need repairs which will cost $20 each.

Mr. Hamilton stated that several crossings in the second ward needed repair.

The report was referred to the street committee who were, on motion of Mr. Hettrler, authorized to purchase a car load of cedar blocks for use in these crossings.

Capt. Hettrler introduced a resolution instructing the proper officials to abate the Fort Wayne College of Medicine as a nuisance. Adopted unanimously.

Mr. J. D. Cook made the following report:
To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:
Gentlemen—In the matter of the relative cost of the proposed reservoir, as between the Hamilton and Olds location, I would respectfully report:
Excess of expenditure on Olds' property, 24 cubic yards at $15.00 per cubic yard, $360.00
Five percent ad valorem on $360.00, 22.20

Five percent ad valorem on $360.00, 22.20

Whole work..... 1,300.00

Total..... $6,222.35

Olds's proposition for ground..... 15,000.00

Hamilton's proposition for..... 24,000.00

Difference in favor of Olds's proposition..... $2,370.65

Respectfully,
J. D. Cook, Chief Engineer.
Fort Wayne, Oct. 20, 1879.

It was ordered spread on the record. The following report was received from the council committee on water works:

To His Honor the Mayor and the Common Council:
Your committee on water works to whom was referred the proposal of H. G. Olds for a tract of land located to the north of the city, for the purpose of building a reservoir, also the proposal from the Hamilton heirs for the same purpose, respectfully beg leave to report that according to the report of the Hon. J. D. Cook, Chief Engineer, the proposal of H. G. Olds, is in favor of the proposition of H. G. Olds to the amount of twenty-three hundred and seventy dollars and sixty-five cents ($2,370.65). We therefore recommend that the mayor and city attorney be authorized to make arrangements to purchase the said tract of land as proposed by H. G. Olds, receive deed and report their transaction to this council as early as possible.

Respectfully submitted,
C. HETTLER,
J. W. VORDERMARK,
S. BASH,
Committee.

The following ordinance was read the first and second time and referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances:

An ordinance relating to the purchase of land for the purpose of furnishing land for water works reservoir and city park for the city of Fort Wayne:

Sec. 2. Upon the conveyance of said land to the city of Fort Wayne, by good and sufficient deed, executed by all the owners of said land, the city of Fort Wayne is to pay therefor the sum of $15,000 in the bonds of the city of Fort Wayne, bearing five percent interest per annum and payable in twenty years from date.

The council then adjourned.

A BIG STINK.

The Council Declares the College of Medicine a Nuisance.

The Doctors to Prosecute the Council Civilly and Criminally for Libel.

The city council last night passed a resolution declaring the Fort Wayne College of Medicine a nuisance and ordered the marshal to abate the same and as a consequence of that resolution the air is resonant with battle cries and war songs and lively times in the stiff bottling works may be expected.

The first scouting party the SENTINEL reporter struck this morning consisted principally of Councilmen Hettrler and Muhler and Dr. Metcalf. They were feeling around and making things lively for each other for awhile. Dr. Metcalf was very vehement in his denunciation of the action of the council and intimated that hair would fly if the marshal put the order into execution. Councilman Mettrler did not seem to be very apprehensive of his top knot, and said that the marshal would surely carry out the order, and as Charlie Muhler complacently felt of his scalp he simply remarked "Let her went."

Dr. Metcalf explained that the college was not a nuisance; that their stiffs were all floating in the briny deep of a pickling vat, and that no odor could be detected excepting that of deodorizing, such as is experienced in any drug store.

Hettrler said that settled the matter; that if the marshal found no nuisance he could not abate one, and that would be the end of it; but if it was a nuisance the city must abate it or lay themselves liable to a suit for damages by the adjoining residents. The council of war then adjourned without smoking the pipe of peace.

As the reporter wandered down Calhoun street, where nearly opposite Wagner's drug store, he thought he detected another faint smell of powder in the air, and accordingly stopped to investigate and perhaps get shot—that was immaterial. The reporter dodged, but what he mistook for a 22-calibre ball was nothing but a buzz fly.

He therefore regained courage and approached Dr. Rosenthal, who was very much incensed over the matter, and spoke very sensibly on the subject. He said that the whole opposition to the college as evinced by various newspaper squibs and long stories, and the council last night, was purely the result of prejudice, which was first introduced and kept hot by the opposition faction. He stated that he asked Capt. Hettrler whether he had visited the college and was answered that he had not, but acted on other grounds, having an affidavit by Henry Bradley to support his action. He thought that was manifestly unfair and would court investigation. A medical college, if conducted creditably, was an ornament and an advantage to the city, as much so as a very large manufacturing establishment; next year they would, by means of this college, bring from $8,000 to $10,000 to the city in way of board, books, etc., the city would have the benefit of that amount at any rate, and yet the city has done nothing to aid them but the gentlemen in charge of the college have established the same in the face of the wildest opposition, and now the city is apparently about to take the side of the opposition, and to tear down the institution after it is established.

Dr. W. Harrison McConnell expressed his unmeasured contempt for the council, but did not say what course he intended to pursue.

The next man up was the council, who was a man who had a large quantity of blood in his eye, so to speak. The blood in his eye was, however, no comparison to the amount of blood to be extracted from the city treasury by means of a $10,000 libel suit, which would shortly be instituted under the Grubbs libel law. Dr. Beak expressed himself very decidedly that the council had no power nor shadow of a right to abolish the institution and were very stupid to think so, and to allow themselves to be controlled by a few men who had private interests at stake in the failure of the college.

The next man run afeel of was a prominent attorney, who stated that the resolution of the council passed last night, was of no more effect in law than if a private party of men would have met and passed a resolution and given the same order to the marshal; the authority would be substantially the same, and the council were getting too interesting for the reporter and he moved out.

A CHANGE OF BASE.

Important Action Contemplated by a Leading Financial Institution.

The Hamilton Bank to Be Made a National Bank.

An important change is in contemplation by one of our leading financial institutions, the Hamilton Bank. It was organized some years ago under the state law, and has a capital of $200,000. It is now in contemplation to surrender the state charter and reorganize under the national banking law, as some of the heaviest stockholders believe that the business can be conducted more profitably and satisfactorily under the national banking law than under the state law. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in a few days, when the proposition will be submitted to the stockholders, who will, it is thought, unanimously decide to reorganize under the national banking law.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Constable Graham Badly Battered Up.

A Violent Collision with a Curbstone.

Yesterday afternoon Constable Graham was the victim of a serious accident, which, however, might have been still more serious in its results had not good fortune attended him. While taking his sister, who is visiting with him from Toledo, out for a ride, he went to Draker's stable and procured a horse and buggy, and started down to Berry street to avoid the street car track. When at the corner of Maiden lane and Berry street his horse unexpectedly shied and striking a part of the curbstone threw Graham out and dragged him a short distance, the fall and the dragging cutting his head and the side of his face in a terrible manner.

He was stunned and was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the office of Dr. Gregg where restoratives were applied and he soon recovered consciousness and was taken home.

He is out on the street to-day but wears a face which looks considerably the worse for wear. The buggy was wrecked.

STAN FRAZIER.
Why He Resigns His Position as Clerk of the Federal Court.

Stan Frazier has not yet tendered his resignation as clerk of the United States district court at this place, notwithstanding the announcements made in the newspapers to that effect. He has, however, written his resignation and will forward it to-day. The causes which led to his resignation are correct as published heretofore.

Mr. Frazier in his letter sets them forth in the following terse terms, saying substantially that the office has now been open and ready for business for the past six weeks, and that during that time one case has been filed, on which the clerk's fees are $2.00, which, by close calculation, he discovers to average 33 1/3 cents per week; aggregating a total of $17.33 1/3 for one year, as his salary. He says although his family is small he cannot see how he can live on that salary and save money, although Dio Lewis might have different views on that subject. He therefore would respectfully tender his resignation.

Mr. Frazier, expresses his intention, however, of staying here until his successor is appointed, which will doubtless be in a short time.

The Amende Honorable.
To the Editor of the SENTINEL:
I was in St. Joseph township yesterday and found some people who were feeling very badly over a small item in last week's SENTINEL. The article referred to G. W. Trease and Maggie Ollinger having been married by me, and that Maggie had skipped away with a nice fellow, etc.

Now, George and Maggie are living together as happy as two turtles, and don't want your reporters to go whinging away about them.

Please make the amende honorable in your usual good style, and very much please them. The article should have referred to Daniel Trease and his wife, who sloped with Lowry. Yours,
J. C. BECKS.

[The error was an unfortunate one and arose from a similarity of names and from the fact that both parties were married by 'Squire Beeks.—ED. SENTINEL.]
